

BOASTED THAT HE HAD SHOT LABORI

Reported Capture of the Assailant.

SOME THINK PRISONER IS MAKING A DRUNKEN BOAST.

Colonel Picquart Resumes His Place on the Stand in Dreyfus Court-martial—Made His Points Eloquent and Pulled Down the Structure the Prosecution Built Up—Climax Reached When, with Sensational Effect, He Cried, "I Am Convinced That Esterhazy is the Guilty Man"—Testimony Causes the Prisoner to Look Like a New Man.

Rennes, Aug. 18.—[Special]—It is reported that the assailant of Labori has been captured. A man was taken at Dol, and when arrested boasted that he had shot Labori. Some think, however, that the prisoner is only making a drunken boast.

Rennes, Aug. 18.—[Special]—The man arrested for shooting Labori has been brought here. He is a villainous looking individual.

Picquart and Labori's valet, who had seen Labori's assailant, declare positively that the prisoner is not the man.

Col. Picquart on the Stand

Rennes, Aug. 18.—[Special]—Col. Picquart today exceeded his brilliant performance of yesterday in the defense of Dreyfus when he resumed his place on the stand this morning.

He made his points eloquently and pulled down the structure of the prosecution built up during the last few days by the ex-war ministers and General Roget.

The climax of Picquart's testimony was reached when with a sensational effect he cried: "I am convinced that Esterhazy is the guilty man."

The witness began by flatly contradicting some of Roget's testimony.

Roget was recalled to the stand and a warm argument followed between him and Picquart.

The latter discredited the documents named in the act of the accusation and swore that the writing in these were the same as that of the letter forged by Henry.

Brings Smile to Dreyfus' Face.

This declaration created a profound sensation. Dreyfus looked like a new man as he listened to Picquart's testimony and a slight smile of pleasure was on his face.

There were murmurs of approval when Picquart scored against Du Paty de Clam, Esterhazy, Goussé and other of his enemies.

Picquart then revealed Du Paty de Clam's story of the "veiled lady" and other "hocus pocus" inventions to shield Esterhazy and showed up the lot in a glaring light.

The session ended with a dramatic confrontation of the witness with Gen. Roget and Mercier and it was an exciting moment.

Picquart was pale, but his eyes shone and he was keyed to a high pitch.

Both generals were highly excited and talked with loud voices.

Had Relations With Henry

Paris, Aug. 18.—[Special]—Esterhazy in writing to the Matin, says he can easily prove that he had relations with Henry, despite Mme. Henry's denial of yesterday.

Rennes, Aug. 18.—The publication by the Paris Figaro of the Schneider telegram, exposing another alleged forgery, caused a great sensation here, and the general impression is that Schneider's disavowal has dealt a severe blow to the prosecution, killing the only point in Gen. Mercier's evidence that was dangerous to Dreyfus.

It is expected that the matter will be brought up in court by Demange, who has a splendid opportunity to drive a nail into the coffin of the prosecution.

Attorney Labori was able to leave his bed for three hours Thursday and even to walk twice across his room. The doctors think that he will be able to be present at next Monday's session.

Mrs. Labori has received a number of menacing letters. One said that the writer was sorry the would-be assassin had not killed not only Labori, but his wife and children.

TESTIMONY HEARD THURSDAY.

Bertullus Makes a Strong Witness in the Interest of Dreyfus.

Rennes, Aug. 18.—With the usual attendance and without any noteworthy incident the second trial by court-martial of Capt. Alfred Dreyfus of the artillery, charged with treason, was resumed Thursday in the lycée.

It is said Maitre Monard, counsel for the Dreyfus family before the court of cassation in the trial revision proceedings, has been summoned to replace M. Labori until such time as the latter is able to resume conduct of the case.

M. Monard is expected to appear early in the morning. Although he is a poor substitute for the brilliant, energetic Labori, it is hoped his presence will strengthen the defense.

Today's session of the court opened with brighter prospects for the prisoner, as M. Demange of counsel for the defense evidently came primed with questions to be put to Gen. Roget. The latter resumed his deposition on the opening of the court, dealing with the theft of Esterhazy's letters from Mdlle. Pays. A number of counsel's shots struck the bull's eye and made the general squirm in his seat. Unfortunately M. Demange is not yet in a position to go thoroughly over the whole ground of this witness' deposition. Gen. Roget will probably be called to the stand later.

After Roget came a witness who proved to be a splendid re-enforcement for Dreyfus. It was M. Bertullus, the examining magistrate who received the late Lieut.-Col. Henry's confession of forgery. M. Bertullus' testimony was a veritable speech for the defense. Coming from a man of the high legal reputation of M. Bertullus, this evidence raised the hopes of the Dreyfusards immensely and it apparently made a deep impression on the members of the court.

After a brief confrontation of M. Bertullus and Mme. Henry, widow of Lieut.-Col. Henry, Col. Picquart, former chief of the intelligence bureau of the war office, was called. The court adjourned after partly hearing Col. Picquart, who will continue his deposition today.

MORE FORGERY IN DREYFUS CASE.

Austrian Military Attaché Repudiates a Letter Attributed to Him.

Paris, Aug. 18.—A special edition of Figaro, just issued, exposes another alleged forgery in the Dreyfus case by publishing the following telegram from Bms:

"The letter of Nov. 30, 1897, attributed to me and reproduced in the Figaro of Aug. 16, 1899, is a forgery."

"SCHNEIDER."

The letter referred to was one from Schneider, the Austrian military attaché at Paris, in which he was alleged to have said that Schwartzkoppen and Panizzardi, respectively German and Italian attaches, were trying to make out that it was not Dreyfus who was giving them information and adding that he had no belief in these protestations. M. Cavaignac, the former minister of war, in his testimony, made a great point of this.

Demand an Extra Session.

Paris, Aug. 18.—Paul Deschanel, president of the chamber of deputies, is flooded by letters from wealthy deputies demanding the convocation of parliament in extraordinary session. The movement for an extra session is taking form. Joseph Lasker, the anti-Semite deputy from Gers, consulted his colleagues and has decided to send a circular to the members of the chamber of deputies asking them to join in a demand for the reopening of parliament.

President Loubet will be compelled to convoke parliament if the demand is signed by one-half the members of each house. It will require the signatures of 250 senators and 292 deputies.

Think Dreyfus Will Be Convicted.

London, Aug. 18.—The correspondents of London papers in Rennes are almost unanimous in taking a gloomy view of the prospects for Capt. Dreyfus. They seem to believe it likely he will be found guilty.

The representative of the Daily Telegraph says that unless the German government reveals the name of the real traitor, the verdict will be rendered as in the previous court-martial.

Deputies May Be Assembled.

Paris, Aug. 18.—Premier Waldeck-Rousseau is about to lay before the cabinet reports from the prefects throughout France showing that public opinion is greatly incensed against the ministry, whose attitude is regarded as prejudicial to commerce. Public desire for the reassembling of the chambers is generally expressed and this question will be discussed by the cabinet.

Guerin Still Holds Out.

Paris, Aug. 18.—Jules Guérin and a small force, diminished by eight deserters, still hold their fortress at the anti-Semitic headquarters, and still defy the entire police force of Paris and the military strength of the republic. The situation would be ridiculous were it not for the fact that it is rapidly growing serious.

Cooper, state that the couple have arrived at Reed City, Mich., and will rest there a few days. The trip was made with a team from Menominee clear across the Northern peninsula. In the event of his death before legal separation is secured it is feared that she will contest his will.

As a general thing the men are satisfied with the settlement as it was a partial victory for them. All the mills will start up in the morning with full crews.

A labor union with a membership of 280 has been organized. The strikers have been quiet and orderly, and have the respect and esteem of even those who do not sympathize with them.

Alexander Meggett's Case.

Eau Claire, Wis., August 18.—Justice Winslow, of the supreme court, has allowed a writ of certiorari on the application of Alexander Meggett, to review the contempt proceedings prosecuted against him by Attorney L. A. Doolittle in the Herbert Nash case.

The contempt of court, jail limit case is so well known as hardly to need recapitulation. Mr. Meggett, who is undoubtedly the best known old settler in the state around, has taken his medicine cheerfully and philosophically, notwithstanding the fact that he, and many of his friends, think he is in the right.

The supreme court has issued the writ and made it returnable on September 5. Judge W. F. Bailey will act for Mr. Meggett.

For Public Institutions.

Home and foreign missions each, $5,000; Lawrence university also gets a share, besides small amounts to local societies. When the new Baraboo M. E. church was dedicated this summer she gave $2,500 to help free it from debt.

FILIPINO REBELS GAINING STRENGTH

THIS MAKES A DEMAND FOR MORE VOLUNTEERS.

President McKinley and Secretary Root Agree That More Energetic Actions Are Needed—Ten Thousand Additional Volunteers Called For—To Push Campaign.

Washington, Aug. 18.—President McKinley is now in perfect harmony with the views of his new secretary of war that a vigorous campaign should be waged in the Philippines. Secretary Root Thursday issued an order calling for volunteers for ten additional regiments of Infantry for service in the Philippines. Mr. McKinley willingly consented to the proposition to raise five additional regiments, but hesitated before sanctioning the new secretary's request for ten. The volunteer force in the Philippines, after the recruiting reaches the maximum, will be 30,107, bringing the fighting force in the island, including the regulars, to 60,930. Recent advices from Manila received at the war department indicate that the insurrection is gaining in strength, and that no dependence can be placed upon the amigos, or friendlies. The latest news from Cebu and Negros, Sulu and other islands, where the conditions were supposed to be favorable to peace, indicate that the natives are becoming troublesome, and that military force will be required to control them.

Secretary Root is determined to garison the captured towns, and will go so far as the law will permit to give the commanding general in the Philippines sufficient force to hold his gains. He is firmly opposed to a repetition of Gen. Otis' experience last winter and spring, when captured towns were abandoned to the insurgents.

The president will give Secretary Root earnest support in his plans to bring the war to a close, and will not seek to minimize the serious problem before the government by withholding re-enforcements. All the volunteers will be sent there, army officers say, and maybe some of the regulars now in Cuba, Porto Rico and this country will be dispatched to Manila.

The new regiments will be composed entirely of white men. Gen. Miles recommended that colored regiments be recruited and sent out to the Philippines, but advises recently received from Gen. Otis say the insurgents have a greater feeling of animosity for the negroes than they have for the whites. The order directing the organization of the ten new regiments provides for the establishment of entirely new quarters. The southwestern states showed such poor ability to provide men in the last volunteer call that that section has been entirely omitted. The formal order providing for the organization of these new regiments will be issued within a few days.

It is understood that the war department contemplates ordering the Fifteenth United States Infantry from Puerto Principe, Cuba, to the United States. That section of the country is particularly full of yellow fever, and it is the desire to remove this regiment as far as possible from all danger.

State to Foot the Bill.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 18.—Gov. Poynter has made a proposition to the railroad of Nebraska with San Francisco connections to transport the First Nebraska regiment home at the state's expense, the railroads to wait for the bulk of the pay until the next legislature makes an appropriation, which he will recommend. The governor will tender $10,000 at once, the amount raised by the newspapers in various cities in the state. No answer has yet been received from the railroad companies. It will require nearly $35,000 to transport the regiment.

HARVEST FESTIVAL AT CLINTON, AUG. 22

BIG CROWD EXPECTED IF THE WEATHER IS PLEASANT.

Base Ball Park Will Be Dedicated on That Day—One of the Finest in Southern Wisconsin—Jefferson and Janesville Teams to Play—Personal Notes.

Clinton, August 18—It August 22 is a pleasant day, a great crowd of people will be here. The whole surrounding country is being thoroughly billed. We must not disappoint our visitors in any particular. Our merchants should everyone take part in the parade, so that it may be a good one. The number of booths should also be large. The outside attractions have all been engaged. The residences, especially on the line of march, should all be nicely decorated, as well as Main street. Put out all the flags. Let's give them, one and all, a hearty welcome. Clinton's new base ball park, which is to be dedicated on Tuesday, August 22, is one of the finest to be found in southern Wisconsin. The Jefferson and Janesville teams are among the best, and the game will be worth going miles to see. We are certainly very fortunate in this locality as regards severe and damaging storms, while other places are receiving injury to crops and buildings we very seldom receive any damage of any consequence. The Episcopal church in Delavan was struck by lightning last Friday and much corn was flattened, shocks of grain blown down, etc., while north of us the hail injured the tobacco badly. The balloon ascension is to be made on August 22nd by Prof. Hoffman of Rockford, who will give a grand exhibition, ascending some 2,000 or more feet and drop a dog with a parachute and later come down himself. Peter Sorenson and Alb Thorson were before Justice Cronkrite and a jury last Tuesday, on a charge of assault and battery. The suit lasted a good portion of the day, making the jury a little short of time for the races. A warm, dry, nice time of late for the farmers to finish up their work. The posters for August 22, are fine ones and tell the whole story plainly. The village water tank has been newly painted. L. L. Olds is pushing the work on the foundation of his new warehouse right along. The wrestling match was a particularly fine attraction at the Scottish games this year. Gen. Giles has been running the pump of late, with which the city is supplied with water. Ground was broke and excavating commenced on L. L. Olds' warehouse on Wednesday morning. Frank De Wolf started a street sprinkler on our streets last Wednesday. There will be excursion rates here on both railroads for August 22. Mrs. Frank Treat of South Dakota, has been in a Chicago hospital for the past few weeks, but was able to get out here last Thursday. Master Paul Heyener of Chicago, is visiting his uncle, Dexter Northrop, and other relatives at Henry Smith's in South Turtle. After putting in a few days at Delavan lake, J. C. Church, wife and Verne have been spending a little time here, Verne being with Alvah on the farm west of Beloit. W. H. and Mrs. Northrop, H. Griewold and wife, C. G. Hamilton and family and Miss Thom of Madison, have been camping at Spring Lawn, Delavan lake. Dr. Collier has returned from his trip to St. Joe and Benton Harbor. Mrs. Collier, after a short visit in Chicago, will return to Creston, Ill., and drive home from there the last of the week. Louis Lawson, of Chicago, was out here recently on one of his semi-annual trips. He reports business in the city as being good, but he seems to enjoy getting here occasionally.—Herald.

Inez Brightman and Grace Pierce spent Wednesday afternoon with Mary Parks of Newville. Rock River was well represented at the circus in Janesville, Thursday. Mrs. Almira Vincent entertained Mrs. Watson of Albion, Thursday. Several of the farmers are having their threshing done this week. Mrs. Bond expects to leave this week for her home in the Black Hills. Mrs. Frank Wannauaker and children of Milwaukee, are spending the week with Mrs. N. M. Rose.

FOOTVILLE BOY BREAKS HIS ARM
Ice Cream Social Under the Auspices of the Ladies Aid Society.

Footville, Aug. 18—The Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church will give an ice cream social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Vesper, Tuesday evening, Aug. 22. A cordial invitation is extended to all and music will be furnished during the evening. Socials have been very few this season so you can afford to come and encourage the ladies. J. M. Fox had the misfortune of having his horse run away throwing himself and children out and breaking his little boy's arm. Acheson & Snyder is our new firm, they having bought out H. S. Stevens. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Newell and family spent part of last week at Whitewater. A. J. Roach and daughter of Waterloo, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in our village. Woodside of Janesville, preached at M. E. church last Sunday.

Causes of Loss of Hair

Dr. Sabouraud, the eminent French Dermatologist, says that 98 per cent of hair losses are the results of microbes and the neglect of dandruff. The antiseptic action of preparations kills microbes and removes dandruff. Their constant use for a period will, by acting directly on the hair bulbs, furnish nourishment, vitality and growing power to the impoverished roots and hair shafts, resulting in complete restoration.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

day morning. Quite a goodly number of local Epworthians attended the district Epworth League convention at Beloit this week. E. W. Strang, who has been sick over two months, is able to be up a part of each day. William Tolifson of Minneapolis, is spending a few days with his mother, Mrs. Emma Tolifson. LATE NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

SHOWS DIRE NEED OF AID.

Reports of Distress in Porto Rico Have Not Been Exaggerated.

San Juan, Porto Rico, via Hayti, Aug. 18.—Visits to the most distressed districts of the island prove that the former reports of terrible conditions have not been in the least exaggerated. People in the towns are huddled together anywhere for shelter. In the country the people are sleeping out in the open air.

The food supplies have been totally destroyed. Only the well-to-do can afford to buy provisions. Unless succor comes in a few days the people will starve.

As far as Caguas and Cayey the sanitary conditions are not threatening, but reports from the towns further south state that their condition is dangerous. The peril lies in the herding of the inhabitants in the towns.

Several of the soldiers were wounded during the recent hurricane, but it is feared that there were no deaths among them.

TUPPER TALKS OF ALASKA.

Canadian Statesman Gives His Views on the Boundary Question.

London, Aug. 18.—Sir Charles Tupper left London Thursday for a brief stay in the country. Although his visit is in no way official, he has given the interested authorities his views on the Alaskan boundary difficulty.

Sir Charles says he has always tried to keep on the most friendly terms with the United States, but that in diplomacy it is difficult. If America was either just or believed its claims just, he thinks that the whole question would be referred to arbitration unreservedly.

Canada, he says, wishes for arbitration, and in the light of the Venezuela settlement he believes the Washington authorities will have difficulty in explaining any opposition to arbitration satisfactorily to the people, whom, he is sure, only want what is just.

No Danger of Plague Here.

New York, Aug. 18.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: "Surgeon-General Wyman of the marine hospital service does not think there is reason for alarm in this country on account of the outbreak of the bubonic plague in Portugal. The only official information he has thus far received is contained in the following dispatch from the United States consul at Lisbon: 'Bubonic pest at Oporto. Few cases at Lisbon. No trains can pass Spanish frontier. No more clean bills of health issued to vessels.'"

Six Drown at Waco, Ind.

Washington, Ind., Aug. 18.—The wife and four children of Albert Hensel, and a Miss Dillon, who accompanied the Hensel family, were all drowned Thursday attempting to cross White river, near Waco, this county. Gen. Alger Out of Politics.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 18.—"I am absolutely out of politics," said Gen. Alger, former secretary of war in President McKinley's cabinet, in an interview Thursday.

ON A WET, chilly day, a drink of good whiskey often works wonders. In its selection good judgement should be used. There is a reason for the popularity of OLD UNDEROOF RYE. It is the successful result of over 30 years' specialized effort in the art of blending. Indeed, the chief secret of Old Underoof's remarkable popularity is in its peculiar combination—a combination that cannot be imitated and which gives to it a never-to-be forgotten mellowness. Stored for years, and matured in heavily charred oaken barrels. Guaranteed free from all artificial colorings and flavorings.

THE MIDSUMMER HAT.

The Crown and Glory of the Afternoon Muslin Toilets.

Somewhere in the dim spaces of feminine forgetfulness the sailor and alpine hats recount their past glories and await the call to duty again. The dust of the top shelf lies heavily on them, while the strawboard, the felt sundown and the languishing leghorn are riding a very tall wave of popularity. We are in the heat of the leghorn season, and bravely does the tried and trusty shape bear its honors. It is a part of the picturesque renaissance, and it is just as much the crown and glory of the afternoon muslin toilet as the starched cotton petticoat is its cornerstone and foundation.

The women who tie their leghorns on by means of tulle or black velvet strings are legion, but you are not obliged to use strings with any hat excepting the mild poke bonnet that has rather captivated the modish public. A leghorn properly set up in life is allowed to drape its brim as the whim

A RENAISSANCE OF THE PICTURESQUE takes it, but the brim is always half faced with a spotted black net laid on flat. Around the crown a fold of tulle or a good cheerful currant red, cerise or lobelia blue is laid with one spread of lace over it, and then the floral decoration is massed in front.

A handful of roses, hearty, full blown red beauties, with a helping of violets, is the proper posy for a hat that is to be used with a variety of muslin costumes, or even more admirable is forward ornamentation in tufts of tinted grain, ripe russet rose and plummy purples. Any low crowned, wide brimmed straw or felt pulled down rakishly over the brows and ornamented with a crown band and one long white goose quill constitutes the proper outing headgear.

Why women have taken so cordially to these slouchy looking hats it is hard to say, for not one of them can endure the merciless summer battering under which the alpine stood up so sturdily nor look the wind in the eye with the nautical self confidence of the round sailor. These wide fellows need fresh quills frequently and strain and flutter at their moorings in a breeze, but they do shield the eyes delightfully and are far lighter on the head than their conquered rivals, says the New York Sun, in whose résumé of fashions occur the interesting statements and illustrations here given.

Simple Day Gowns.

For day gowns nothing looks fresher or prettier than white serge or white pique, and quite a simple style is best. A perfectly plain skirt with a fair amount of fullness may be worn with a lawn or cambric blouse in pale pink, blue or green. A coat is by no means necessary, but it may be donned occasionally, when the air is fresh by river or shore. The shapes which are most worn at present are the short boleros, which are first cousins to Eton jackets and which very often clear the waist line at the sides and back and come down to a point in front and the little sack coats which are quite loose fitting and exceedingly comfortable.

"Tattooed Lady" on the Cable Car.
One sometimes hears rumors of women resorting to tattooing as a fad, but the designs are usually made on some part of the body where they will not be visible in ordinary conditions. A woman on one of the Broadway cable cars, the other day, however, carried a conspicuous tattoo mark on the back of her hand, a little to one side. Her hands were bare and brown, having the look of strength and much exercise. One fancied that she belonged to sailor or fisher folk somewhere, and that she could lend a hand when necessary with the best of them in manning a boat and similar work.—Ex.

Penalty of Talking.
A sharp watch over the tongue is necessary in Germany nowadays. It was only the other day a workman attending his father's funeral was overcome with grief as he turned away from the grave, and sobbed out, "Farewell, we shall never meet again." His words were reported to a magistrate, who summoned the workman for an outrage against public morals by denying the immortality of the soul, and sentenced him to fifteen days' imprisonment.

MRS. EDGAR A. HYDE TO OTHER WORLD

PASSED AWAY LAST EVENING AT EIGHT O'CLOCK.

Demise Was the Result of Bronchial Consumption—She Had Been Ill for a Year Past, and Confined to Her Bed For Two Weeks.

Fannie Louise Hyde, nee Simpson, wife of Edgar A. Hyde, died at 8 o'clock last evening at her home on South Third street of bronchial consumption. Thus ends a fair young life, the pathos of whose closing scenes has touched many hearts.

For over a year Mrs. Hyde's vital forces appeared waning, and while there was no settled disease her strength decreased by almost imperceptible degrees. Then a bronchial affection made its appearance against which the best medical skill was unable to make headway. Last winter a change of climate offered possibilities of help, and she spent a few months in Florida fanned by the balmy breezes of the gulf and later among the pines of Georgia. But all was of no avail and she was brought home in May but pleased to spend her last few months with those who loved her.

As is common in diseases of this nature she was buoyed up in a belief in her ultimate recovery, and not until long after every vestige of hope had deserted her friends was she ready to admit the inevitable. After days of pain and weakness followed by nights of sleepless exhaustion she gradually lost her thirst for life, and during the last few weeks came to long with passionate eagerness for the summons of that last kind friend whose touch brings peace. The end came painlessly and she fell into the eternal slumber as a tired child sinks to its repose.

Mrs. Hyde was born at Clarenceville, Province of Quebec, Canada, Jan. 2, 1870. When still a young child she came to Janesville, received her education in the city schools, and has all along been identified with the social life of the community. Her life has been rich in the choicest gifts. A devoted husband, a lovely child, a mother, brother and sister, a charming home and hosts of friends filled her cup of happiness to the brim and it is no wonder she clung to life with all the tenacity of her strong will. She was a woman of keen perceptions, of rare taste, of ready tact, enlivened by a strong sense of humor without which the finest qualities of mind and heart lack point and flavor. Never for a moment was her clear mind obscured, even when her pain-racked body had long ceased to be the fitting instrument.

Besides a husband and daughter, Lucille, a mother, Mrs. M. E. St. John; a sister, Miss Lou St. John; and a brother, George D. Simpson, all of this city, are left to mourn her loss.

The funeral will be conducted from her mother's home, 252 South Third street, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

ON PUBLIC BUILDING SITES

Taylor Takes Up Janesville and Eau Claire Questions.

The Washington correspondent of the Milwaukee Sentinel sends the following to that paper:

"Supervising Architect Taylor of the treasury today took up with Assistant Secretary Taylor the question of sites for public buildings at Janesville and Eau Claire, but no decision was reached and the supervising architect did not file recommendations for sites. It was learned by the official when he visited Eau Claire that the people desired the question of locating the public building postponed, as they are convinced that a proper site and a building adequate to meet the needs of the city cannot be obtained with the money appropriated at the last session of congress and they wish to make another trial to increase the appropriation. The matter will therefore be left open for the present."

"In regard to Janesville the supervising architect has in mind two sites, but his choice of the two is not disclosed. The department will probably make an offer for a site on the west side, but there is a difference of about $2,500 in the figures at which the site is offered, the amount the department desires to pay. If the site can be secured for $7,500 it may be chosen."

The Heart of Chicago at Myers Grand Monday Evening

"The Heart of Chicago," a powerful melodrama, all the scenes of which are laid in Chicago, will be the opening attraction at the Myers Grand opera house, Monday, Aug. 21. It is said to contain a strong plot and to be well put together. Realistic representations of the great Chicago fire, the Masonic Temple roof garden at night, a panoramic view of the south side showing all the important streets and buildings between Madison and State streets, and from the lake to the river, and an absolutely new railroad scene are among the scenic accessories employed.

TEXAS PLUMS.—The quality of Texas plums puts the Pacific coast fruit to the blush and are beginning to appear in northern markets in quantities to attract commercial consideration. The advantage the Texas fruit holds over California fruit lies mainly in the flavor. The southern fruit has an exquisite flavor, but its texture has usually been so fine that shipments large enough to satisfy commercial requirements have heretofore been unprofitable. It is owing to the improvement in time saving transportation facilities that this delicious variety of plums can be safely and profitably shipped to the north.

W. F. KIMBALL HAS A NARROW ESCAPE

A METAL FIRE EXTINGUISHER
EXPLODED THIS MORNING.

Accident Occurred at the Thoroughgood Factory—Face Grazed by the Top of a Cylinder—George Barlow Meets with a Serious Accident—Lyons Sent Home.

W. F. Kimball, engineer at the box factory of John Thoroughgood & Co., had a very close call to a serious accident this morning.

Mr. Kimball was engaged in re-charging one of the metal fire extinguishers with which the plant is equipped, when in some unknown manner it exploded with terrible force, the top of the cylinder just grazing his face. An inch closer and it would undoubtedly have killed him. A fragment of the extinguisher struck him on the left wrist and it was thought at first that the member was fractured, but a careful examination failed to reveal any broken bones, though the blow will keep Mr. Kimball from using his arm for some time.

The Thoroughgood factory is equipped with a style of fire extinguisher that requires new charges at intervals, and it was while engaged in the work of replacing one of them that the accident occurred. Mr. Kimball is receiving the congratulations of his friends on his lucky escape from death.

Run Over By Cars.

Although George Barlow, a young man who resides one mile west of Edgerton, was deprived of the pleasure of witnessing Ringling Bros' circus yesterday, he has reasons to congratulate himself that he is alive. The young man, who is sixteen years of age, left his home yesterday with the intention of seeing the circus. At Milton Junction he attempted to board a moving freight train. He missed his hold and fell underneath the wheels and his left foot was badly mangled. Dr. E. F. Woods of this city, was summoned to the scene of the accident and upon examination found it necessary to amputate the foot five inches above the ankle. He was assisted in the operation by Dr. Albert S. Maxson.

Lyons' Injuries Serious.

William Lyons, a notice of whose accident appeared in last evening's issue, was taken to the depot yesterday and sent to Milton, where he was met by members of his family and taken to his home in Otter Creek.

Dr. George Einfeld, who was summoned to attend Mr. Lyons, found that he had sustained severe injuries. One of his ribs was broken, there was a bad gash in the nose and his left eyelid was out. He is also thought to have been internally injured.

FEW NEIGHBORING WEDDINGS

C. D. Rosa and Grace L. Chamberlin Married at Beloit.

Hichurst, the pretty farm residence of J. N. Chamberlain, near Beloit, was the scene of a wedding at noon yesterday. The contracting parties were Miss Grace Lillian Chamberlain and Charles D. Rosa, principal of the Edgerton High school, both graduates in '98 of Beloit college. President Eaton of the college, performed the ceremony, and J. N. Coombs of Honey Creek, Wis., a classmate of Mr. Rosa, was best man, and Miss Hattie Chamberlain, sister of the bride, college class of '99, was bridesmaid. The couple will be at home at Edgerton after October 1.

Professor Charles Green of Beloit, and Miss Annie Axtel were married last evening, at the residence of the bride's mother in Evansville, the Rev. Wallace M. Short officiating. The groom was a graduate from Beloit college, and is one of the teachers in the Evansville High school. The bride is prominent in literary and church work. After a trip to Mackinac island and other lake resorts they will reside here. Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hattie Green of Beloit, Mrs. Sullon of Ludlow, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allen, Janesville; Dr. Clark and wife, Beloit; Vern Axtel and wife and the Misses Grace and Mabel Alsop, Brooklyn; Lucien Biglow and family, Rutland.

Miss Maud De Voe of Argyle, and D. S. De Neen of Woodford, both of Lafayette county, were married Thursday at Monroe, by the Rev. G. W. Case of the M. E. church.

Turt Loases.

A London magazine gives an estimate of the money lost on the turt throughout the world during each year. The amount is placed at $250,000,000, of which $50,000,000 is lost on English race courses and, strange to say, about $100,000,000 on Australian courses. The remainder is chiefly distributed between France, the United States and British Colonies.

Queer Wagers.

Men have made queer wagers in the past and present. One man afflicted with the gambling spirit was Sir Mark Sykes. He offered to pay any one a guinea a day for each day Napoleon lived; provided the taker would pay 100 guineas down. A clergyman accepted the offer and made a fine profit, as Napoleon lived three years.

Want Bachelors Taxed.

At a meeting of middle-class women of Athens, held recently, it was decided to ask parliament to impose a heavy tax on all bachelors over 40 years old. The passage of any such measure is said to be unlikely, for the chamber has become the chief resort of well-to-do bachelors. Consequently the tax would hit them heavily.

SATISFIED WITH CIRCUS

Ringling Bros. Will Be Assured a Hearty Welcome Next Visit.

The circus has come and gone and a careful canvass would fail to reveal a dissatisfied person among the several thousand who attended the performance. Every act was brilliant and well executed and every performer, both human and dumb was a star. Truly it was the "world's greatest show" and Ringling Bros. will be assured a hearty welcome any time they return to the city.

If any of the acts deserve special mention it would be possibly those of John O'Brien and his sixty-one horse pyramid; Mlle. Turnour, the balancing trapeze artist; Lockhart's herd of wonderful educated elephants and the Da Coma family of acrobats. But every act was so good that it was hard to choose between them.

The afternoon attendance was estimated at twelve thousand and the evening one at five thousand. The street railway management reports the largest day's business in the history of the line, the exact number of passengers carried being 6,049. Then there were thousands that walked, rode in carryalls and went in private conveyance.

Take it all together it was a big day for both Janesville and the Ringling Brothers, and every one is satisfied.

As to the attending crowds, they were record breaking. They were all there. There was the young man scarcely large enough to wear pants, and the old man, who in his mildest dreams does not expect to see more than one, or possibly two more circuses, together with all the years of man that intervene.

Sea Postoffices and the Time They Save.

The separating of New York mail and mail for the principal states and cities is done by the sea postoffices in steamers of the North German Lloyd, Hamburg-American and American lines, and when mails are received by either of these steamers they are ready for delivery in a much shorter time than when received by other vessels. In addition to the sea postoffice service, the transfer service has also in the last two or three years materially reduced the work at the foreign department in the New York office.—Scribner's.

ANOTHER FACTORY MAY COME OUR WAY

WHITEWATER PEOPLE ARE FAVORABLY IMPRESSED.

Rumors to the Effect That a Concern in That City Might Be Induced to Settle in the Bower City—Report Also Current in the Normal School Town.

Rumors have been afloat for some time that Janesville was to get a Whitewater wagon factory to locate here, but nothing definite became known until recently, when local parties began interesting themselves in a quiet way in the scheme. It is said that a stock company will be formed and that a line of plows will be manufactured as well as wagons. The Whitewater Register under date of Aug. 17th says of the matter:

Reports have been current this week of the sale of the Weyher wagon factory. In an interview Mr. Weyher says that the deal is not yet fully closed, but that it is likely to be consummated in a few days. The name of the intending purchaser has not yet been made public. In case the plant is sold, the firm will remove to Janesville and manage a wagon factory at that place to be operated by a stock company in which the Weyher will have a controlling interest. We should be very sorry to have Messrs. Weyher & Son leave, as they have built up a large trade and been a great help to the manufacturing interests of the town. Perhaps it may not yet be too late to induce them to change their plans.

RUN ON STOUGHTON BANK

Depositors Scared.—Cashier Says Its All Right.—Merchants Confident.

The Madison Journal says there has been a flurry at the Stoughton State bank yesterday and today, but a telephone message from there says the excitement is past and the run practically over. Cashier Robe Dow says: "The bank is all right. There has been a little, but it didn't amount to anything. The business men of Stoughton are depositing their money today."

The run appears to have started with a few farmers living at some distance from Stoughton, and was taken up by some of the easily frightened. A Stoughton business man expresses the conviction that the bank is solid. One wealthy citizen has offered his money, and considerable amount of cash has been received from outside today, and more is coming tonight.

The bank has always enjoyed the confidence of the public, as is evidenced by the amount of its deposits, which on July 3 amounted to $424,455.93, for both time and demand deposits. The capital stock is $25,000, all but $5,400 of which is held by members of the Dow family. George Dow, the president, holding $12,000, Mrs. Belle G. Dow $8,600, Robe Dow, Sr., $1,500, R. N. Dow, $1,100, Robe Dow, Jr., $700, Giles Dow $700, E. A. Furdick of Edgerton, $4,000, Mrs. Olivia Johnson of Stoughton, $1,400.

ROMANCE OF A LADY

STABLE MAN AND CUPID . . .

SHE MIGHT HAVE
COUNTESS.

The recent marriage, at Swampscott, Mass., of the heiress of millions to her coachman, which shocked the town and caused surprise all through the United States, is the end of a romance, commonplace in many things, that had its beginning years ago, for Miss Addie L. Phillips and Bernard B. Kennedy had known each other from childhood. Miss Addie Phillips is the charming niece of the richest woman in town, Mrs. Warren Phillips. If she had not married young Kennedy there is no telling what the future might have had in store for her. Just as like as not, ten years hence she might have been a duchess or a countess, or, better still, the mistress of one of the richest American homes, for Mrs. Warren Phillips has millions in her own right, and not a child to leave it to. Had, therefore, her pretty niece been to her as her own child, and done in all things as the aunt wanted, there is no telling how many of these millions would have fallen to her. And yet—who knows?—would she have been happier? Time alone can answer that, but at present the bride and groom are blissfully carefree of what the world thinks, for they are on their wedding journey, in spite of the fact that rumor has it they have been seen around Swampscott and that they are living at her old home at the corner of Humphrey and Orient streets, that city. It is probable that there would not have been a marriage, at least at present, if it had not been for sister Ella. Ella is a good little girl and pretty as a picture—prettier than her sister by far. She has black hair and eyes and lovely color, but she couldn't keep her tongue from telling all that her eyes saw, and there was not much that escaped them. It was last fall that she opened them wide, when she discovered that the coachman and the sister were very good chums, and when she understood that Adele preferred his company to hers a great many times, she ran and told her aunt, and her aunt was scandalized. Then there was much plain talk, and Mrs. Phillips tried to make her niece see things in a practical, common-sense light. After that she took very great care to keep her away from the coachman as much as possible. That is how it happened that nobody ever remembers of having seen her with him alone. She was not allowed to drive with him alone, but Ella, who did not care a rap for him, was driven around in the luxurious carriages, big and small, as often as she pleased. But then, when two people are in one great big house, and the aunt has lots of company and has to entertain them, there are plenty of chances for the girl who wishes to improve them, and she did. Miss Adele is a strong-willed girl. In defiance of older heads, she often did what she would. Probably she inherited her free and independent nature from her father, Nelson Phillips, who was a Swampscott fisherman at the time she was born. Finally the arduous life was getting too much for him, and after a time he became a prosy landsman and opened a fish market in Rochester, N. H., that paid him very well. It was not long before both he and his wife died. His death was made easier, though, by the fact that his sister, Mrs. Warren Phillips, agreed to take the children and care for them. Although of the same name, these two Phillips families were not related. All Nelson Phillips' life he had known the Phillips family his sister married into. There was an old man, Eben Phillips, who out of oil and fish accumulated the millions that have made the Phillips name the most prominent one not only in Swampscott, but in many places. At his death about twelve years ago his millions, well invested, were left his children, Leonard, Charles, Dave, Warren, John, and his two daughters, Mrs. Gage, living in California, and Mrs. Chase, wife of Dr. Chase of Swamp-there was a scene that night. Miss Addie's blue eyes flashed determination, and in a manner which did not give the lie to her brilliant Mexican hair. She announced that she had a right to kiss "Barney," for he was to be her husband some day. Had those continually flying flags that the Chinese chef of the two bachelor brothers, Leonard and Charles Phillips, whose estate adjoins that of Warren Phillips, turned into fierce "kissing bugs" and attacked the family, the astonishment could not have been more profound than it was at this marriage announcement. The aunt talked and so did the girl. It made much difference to the aunt that her niece was a Congregationalist who had attended service and Sunday school almost every Sunday of her life, and that the prospective bridegroom was a Catholic, but the difference in faith was of no importance to the girl. Although she has talked to nobody during the year in regard to her matrimonial plans, she did admit to a friend after marriage that she had been engaged about a year. Her classmates remember now on the day of graduation she told them that she would do something that would surprise them before long. She certainly kept her word.

As to the now far-heard-of coachman. He is a native of Swampscott, having been born there twenty-three years ago. He was educated in the public schools there, but although he entered the high school he did not graduate, for the reason that his father died and he was obliged to do something to support his mother. So he went to work for John Phillips seven years ago. He lived with him in the family and was treated as an equal. John thought a great deal of him. He stayed there until Mr. Phillips' death, about two years ago, and then shortly afterward he went to Mrs. Phillips as her coachman. Everybody writes in describing him as a fine, manly looking fellow, whose countenance is stamped with honesty. He is of fine proportion and physique, and has thick blonde hair, slightly wavy, and frank blue eyes. It has been reported that he has a brogue, but he has not. He was born within a few hundred feet of where his bride was, and has known her since she was a little girl. Addie says he has been one of the kindest and best friends she ever had. In no way does she regard it that she is marrying out of her station, for she remembers that she is a fisherman's daughter and she knows that her husband's mother was a lady. In her own right the young bride has about $20,000 that her father left her as her portion.

HE OBJECTED

To the Bride's Low-Necked Dress and She Jilted Him at the Altar.
Derby (Conn.) Special New York World: It was because Florine Pequigney, the Thomastown beauty, who was to have become the bride of Dr. James J. McCarthy of Meriden, insisted on wearing a low-necked dress that her fiancé refused to go to the altar with her. "That sort of thing for a morning wedding would frighten the natives," protested Dr. McCarthy, as she stood before him in her wedding gown. He had just come in from Meriden with his best man, procured the marriage license, and had dropped in at his fiancée's home on the way to his hotel, where he was to dress for the wedding. Miss Florine burst out crying and her mother denounced the critical bridegroom. "Young man," she said, "you're a fool, and if my daughter marries you I'll disown her." Then the doctor weakened, but it was in vain he retracted. Mrs. Pequigney and Miss Pequigney indignantly left the house and caught the very next train for home. Miss Pequigney is a telegraph operator and her mother is a widow. The friends of both parties say the wedding is off.

California Almonds.

California produces about one-third of the almonds consumed in the United States.

About one month ago my child, which is fifteen months old, had an attack of diarrhoea accompanied by vomiting. I gave it such remedies as are usually given in such cases, but as nothing gave relief, we sent for a physician and it was under his care for a week. At this time the child had been sick for about ten days and was having about twenty-five operations of the bowels every twelve hours, and we were convinced that unless it soon obtained relief it would not live. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was recommended, and I decided to try it. I soon noticed a change for the better; by its continued use a complete cure was brought about and it is now perfectly healthy.—C. L. Boggs, Stumptown, Gilmer Co., W. Va. Scrofula, a Vile Inheritance.

Scrofula is the most obstinate of blood troubles, and is often the result of an inherited taint in the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Scrofula; it forces out every trace of the disease, and cures the worst cases.

My son, Charlie, was afflicted from infancy with Scrofula, and he suffered so that it was impossible to dress him for three years. His head and body were a mass of sores, and his eyesight also became affected. No treatment was spared that we thought would relieve him, but he grew worse until his condition was indeed pitiable. I had almost despaired of his ever being cured, when by the advice of a friend we gave him S. S. S. (Swift's Specific). A decided improvement was the result, and after he had taken a dozen bottles, no one who knew of his former dreadful condition would have recognized him. All the sores on his body have healed, his skin is perfectly clear and smooth, and he has been restored to perfect health.

YOU NEED A FIRE...

Ought to Have an Air Tight

Stove for the little blaze for cool mornings and evenings. The stove itself costs but a trifle, is light and takes up no room, will burn anything and a little wood makes plenty of heat; therefore they are economical. Air Tight Stoves will carry fire forty-eight hours, make no dirt, burn their own ashes and make ideal heaters for just this season of the year.

Barler's Ideal

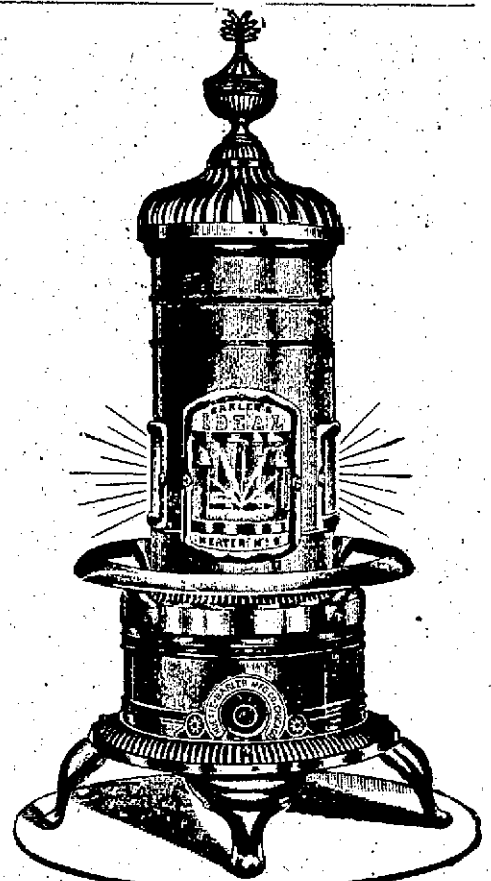

Oil Heater is absolutely the best oil heater on the market. We have proven this point to our own satisfaction and recommend it in the strongest terms possible. The Ideal Heater can be placed anywhere, easily moved, and, unlike other oil heaters, are perfectly odorless; no smoke, plenty of heat, and costs less than one cent an hour to run it; a perfect heater for bedroom, bath room, dining room or sitting room. Over 60,000 Ideal Heaters in use today. They are as effective for constant work in cold weather as for temporary work spring and fall.

Buggy Tastes are Changing

The monotonous style of vehicle of a few years ago does not find place with the up-to-date buyer of today.

The demand for rigs of natty appearance increases each season. This year the swell turnouts combine comfort with style. The open runabout 'buggy' with elliptic springs and rubber tires, or the top buggies with rubber tires, have a tendency to make the person who has no outfit a trifle envious. Handsome Buggies do not cost as much as you think for. Prices are reasonable and the rigs are the best.

Although Eben Phillips was a large loser in the great Boston fire, yet there was plenty of millions left, so that today the Phillipses own much valuable property in Boston, a large part of Swampscott, and nearly all of Pigeon Cove. Ella precipitated affairs by reporting to her aunt some passages of sweetness that she saw between the coachman and her sister, and

WONDERFUL BOOK OFFER

THE WAR WITH SPAIN and in the Philippines having made it self-evident to all Americans that although they are recognized the world over as being the greatest nation of readers and thinkers the world has ever produced they have [sadly neglected one of the most important of all the branches of human knowledge—HISTORY. The metropolitan newspapers, recognizing that fact, have placed several histories of more or less merit before the people through their columns. The great trouble has been, though, that the cure has been worse than the disease. All of them are ONE-MAN CONCERNS. A great Chicago Lawyer, commenting on that fact, said: "It takes a very smart man, a very great man, to write a history of his own country, but an angel or a devil could not write a history of the other fellow's country."

Imagine that lonely essayist cuddled in his den in Kalamazoo, say, letting his fancy fly around the earth, stopping now on some mountain peak to gaze wistfully over some vast and trackless plain, now on some chimney top while gazing into the teeming city beneath for facts which were hidden by distance and time, and, for want of a peep into annals, impossible of access, he must fill in with fiction.

History is a debatable land. It lies on the confines of two distinct territories. It is under the jurisdiction of two hostile powers. Instead of being equally governed by reason and imagination, it falls alternately under the sole and absolute dominion of each. It is sometimes fiction. It is sometimes theory. THAT IS THE RULE, and it is because of it that the great historian is rare, and the one-man history is not worth a snap and gives satisfaction to but one man—the historian.

The great historian must possess an imagination sufficiently powerful to make his narrative picturesque; yet he must control it so absolutely as to content himself with the materials which he finds, and refrain from supplying deficiencies with inventions. In addition, he must be a profound and ingenious reasoner, yet he must possess sufficient self-command to abstain from twisting facts into hypotheses. That, the one man with his natural sympathy for one country and its people and his just as natural want of it for another, cannot do.

Knowing that among The Gazette's subscribers there are hundreds who are casting around for the best work attainable of this nature, we have arranged to offer the grandest series of histories the world has ever known. It would have been impossible to offer such an opportunity were it not for the fact that a merry war is in full swing between the independent publisher and the book trust. When this great set of histories was placed on the market the combine commenced to fire the one-man histories on the market through the metropolitan dailies whose influence was depended on to drive this magnificent "NATIONS OF THE WORLD" off the market. But the publisher declares he will give the people $1,000,000 worth of fun and $1,000,000 worth of history during the engagement, and this is how he proposes to do it:

This publishing house, being for the last twenty years closer to the people than any other in America, proposes to reach them through the papers which are closest to them. Therefore it offers 100 sets which Gazette subscribers can have at exactly half the regular prices. As that is all that will under any circumstances be offered those desirous of securing a set must be lively about it. 200 sets were disposed of in Danville, Ill., in just 4 days. You can see the full set of books at JOYCE BROS., W Milwaukee St., or fill out coupon and the representative of the publisher will call at your house and show them.

NOW don't be under the impression that these histories, or any of them are not strictly up-to-date. France is taken up where Guizot left off in 1848 and is brought down to the Dreyfus case by competent writers of today; England, which Green left off at Waterloo, is taken down to Omdurman; the U. S. to the ratification of the treaty with Spain in like manner. Gibbon's Rome is the only history in the lot that is left as originally finished by author for obvious reasons.

NATIONS OF THE WORLD—

The histories now ready for delivery are acknowledged the world over, to be the standard histories of the various countries treated. Guizot is the most celebrated of historians. Green's England is the scholarly work of a scholarly man, and has been perused by hundreds of thousands of English and American readers. Hawthorne's United States was compiled for this series. Prescott and Abbott are "household words." The series contains the following works:
